

we arrive here at 4.30 today in very weather

had a most glorious climb through such beautiful country with Somersetshire

Exeter Cathedral Southwest

Exeter Cathedral Southwest, showing the flying buttresses and the South Tower, containing the heaviest peal of bells in the world. The Tower is Norman.

This card is published at Worth's Elizabethan Gallery facing Cathedral, dating 1580, where a unique collection of West Country Water Colours can always be obtained

Saturday last night lunched at Windsor. Was very disappointed with S. Cathedral climb this much better. Have left orders for lunch cream & fruit for Tuesday

Hope you are both feeling much better. Go Penzance tomorrow

Love from A. G. W.

POST CARD

WORTH'S SERIES

The Address only to be written here

Mr. Miss Parlow.
The Homestead
Melrose St
Roxbury
Herts